

Link prediction as a classification problem

Link prediction can be represented as a binary classification problem, where the Graph  $G(E)$  is the training dataset